

INVENTORY

DOCUMENT

VALUE

APPRAISE

In the event of a loss, would you be able to recall and document the general contents or valuables within your residence, estate or collection?

For many years professionals in the insurance and financial planning industry have stated the need to have a complete inventory that includes proper documentation, valuation or appraisal of contents. Having a complete inventory is fundamental in protecting and managing your valuable possessions as a homeowner, multi-estate owner, curator or corporation with art.

Whether you are planning in the event of a loss, want to update the accuracy of records or efficiently manage information pertaining to your residential and estate contents or corporate collection, it is essential to address the challenge with the best solution.

How accessible to you is the information regarding your personal assets, receipts, appraisals and inventory?

“ We strongly recommend that all of our customers complete a full and detailed inventory of their possessions. In the event of a loss, an accurate inventory aids in the burden of proof, in remembering exactly what was lost, and in gaining a quick and accurate claim settlement. Fortunately, companies such as Asset Archives exist to get this tedious task completed - an important work that is too often overlooked. ”

Personal Lines Insurance Manager
One of the largest property and casualty insurers in the world

